THE PIT: How to Rescue Financial Disaster

As we concluded the first chapter of "How to Convert THE PIT from a financial blunder to a $43,000 Wonder plus interest" we saw that the deal was about to be halted by the seeminly solid wall of justice in the Courts with a defeat for the plaintiffs - Mineo et al.

Let us return now the saga of PIT politics. It must be remembered that the Judge had to admonish "His Honor," the Mayor, that his performance appeared to place him in the role of friend of the plaintiff and warned him that he was actually a defendant in the case. To which Seaside's attorney quite accurately replied, "It appears, Your Honor, that I don't have a friend in court."

The following is an exact quotation from the intended decision of the court in the case of Mineo vs City of Seaside, Superior Court Case M 4841, March 23, 1971: "The parties entered into an escrow agreement which provided among other things that the exchange of property should be contingent upon Seaside being able to assume the Bank of America loan on the Mineo property. The deed of trust contained a provision that upon the transfer of the property by the plaintiff and the loan would fall due. The loan had a balance of $43,109.60 and carried interest at 6 percent. The bank refused to permit the transfer. In court the bank's manager, Mr. Mayland, testified that the rate for such a loan would now be 9 percent to the ordinary borrower, but might be slightly less in the case of defendant city; that in any event a new loan would need to be arranged and that it would carry a higher rate of interest.

Now interest rates have moved substantially upwards since March. In any case, if the city were to be taking a $59,700 bath for Mr. Mineo in assuming the loan at 6 percent, let us look at the "bed of roses" we would be buying at 9 percent.

On the present loan, the montly payment is $498. At that rate of repayment it would take just about 13 years to repay the same loan at 9 percent interest, or 156 payments. This means a total loan repayment cost of $77,000 plus the trading equity of the City Hall property of $62,000. Thus the people of the City of Seaside would have paid $140,000 for a property that the City Manager's investigation showed to be roughly equal to the value of the city hall property in the first place!!!!

This is the proposal of the HONORABLE Mayor who has vilified this Council for incurring expenses.

This is the proposal of the HONORABLE Mayor who motivated, supported and dictated the efforts to rid this city of the responsibility that has been exercised by this Council in this and many other instances.

This was the proposal of the HONORABLE Mayor whose personal suggestion brought on the court cost of the PIT transaction.

This was the HONORABLE Mayor who knows that it is illegal for a city to enter into any obligation which extends beyond its budget year. It is equally illegal for a banker to make such a loan. And, if a way were found to make the loan irrespective of the legalities, the encumbrances on the property would be enormously detrimental to the city. They could not even call the property their own for 15 years- and would have traded off their own old city hall, clear and free, to make that kind of a deal?

This is the HONORABLE Mayor who has never waivered in his support of the PIT transaction, either when it represented a $121,760 or a $140,000. The attorney representing the city spoke more truthfully than he knew when he commented that Seaside had no friends in that court.

This is the HONORABLE Mayor who has represented himself as the personal defendor of naive real estate buyers against impliedly unscrupulous sellers by promoting a Real Property Disclosure Ordinance.

In my first comment on the PIT two weeks ago, I raised the question of a possible method of evading the decision of the court. Essentially itis this: gaining time to present new evidence in the case gives the plaintiffs in the case several options. The most likely option is a contingency that depends upon the success of the Recall. In that event the plaintiff can drop the case before the judgment is recorded. A Haddad Council will then proceed with the PIT purchase by reversing the present Council's refusal to proceed.

Before that happens the people of Seaside have the opportunity to reconsider by repudiating the Recall with a solid NO vote.

Drive For OpenSpace Beginning

The Committee for Monterey Peninsula Regional Park and Open Space District has announced a signature gathering drive scheduled for today (Thursday) through Saturday, June 26. On these days, petitions will be circulated at shopping districts throughout the Peninsula.

Five thousand signatures are needed on the petitions, which ask the County Board of Supervisors to put the measure establishing a "Park and Open Space District" on the November ballot.

The proposed district, which would cover the same area as the Monterey Peninsula College District, would assess property at a maximum rate of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Its purpose would be to acquire open space and recreational lands, saving some of these areas for public use and preventing them from being developed.

The proposal is supported by local chapters of the Audubon Society, Sierra Club, League of Women Voters and American Institute of Architects.

Council Hears Opposition to Carnival

At its last meeting, the Seaside City Council listened to protests from irate businessmen who are opposed to site of the three-day carnival, which will be held in conjunction with the annual Fourth of July Parade.

The carnival will be held on LaSalle Street between Fremont and DelMonte.

Orval Mead, owner of a motel which is next to the location, presented a petition to the council that was signed by a number of local businessmen who are opposed to the carnival.

Mead said the event was a danger to the public safety and would provide hardships on many businesses.

Don Butts, a chamber of commerce director, told the council that the chamber felt that the carnival should be held at the Monterey Fairgrounds. "This is an area," he said, "more ideally suited for this kind of activity."

Councilman Gerald McGrath answered this opposition by telling them that this would be a "clean carnival." It consists, he said, of rides for children and there will be no games of chance. The same carnival, he added, recently operated in San Bruno with no police supervision.

A suggestion that the event be held at a local school brought staff members of the Young Adult For Action into the debate.

James Golden, a YAFA member, explained that a fund raising barbeque had been planned and that moving the carnival would jeapordize this event.

Golden then added, "Everybody has a tendency to follow business and disregard the community."

The debate was ended when councilman Pearl Carey told the crowd that the street will be closed for three days, "so we might as well forget about it."

MPC Test Is Saturday

Persons planning to enter Monterey Peninsula College as new students in the fall be given an opportunity to take the MPC placement examination this Saturday, June 26, 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. in Lecture-Forum 103 on campus.

The examination is required of all students who have not completed English 101 or its equivalent in college and who desire to enroll in sight units or more in any course in English, speech and the social sciences.

Counselor David Sawyer, in charge of testing, advises participants to bring No. 2 pencils with them.

Last day to file admission materials for full-time fall enrollment at MPC is August 20. Admissions bulletins, setting forth the requirements for registrationand 1971-72 catalogs are available at the college now.

Candidates' Night Planned

The Seaside Citizens For Good Government, Inc., is holding a candidates' night on Wednesday, June 23.

Since this organization is primarily responsible for the election for which this forum is being held, they have decided to afford all candidates a last chance to air their views on the issues facing the city. It will also allow those candidates, who feel that some of their points were not understood, to speak and to answer charges and erroneous statements which may have been rendered previously during other candidates' nights.

All questions will be screened by a committee and no questions will be permitted unless they pertain to current issues or have been made a part of this campaign.

There will be no questions made verbally from the audience. All questions must be written and may be prepared prior to the meeting.

The forum will be held in Seaside City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

CoastlineThreatIsTopic

A photo exhibit illustrating threats to the local coastline is now on display at the Friends of Photography Gallery in Sunset Center, Carmel.

The local Ventana chapter of the Sierra Club is sponsoring the free exhibit, which will be on display through today (Thursday).

The friends of Photography is open daily, except Monday, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The photographs were made by Bert Muhly, former planning director of Santa Cruz county. They illustrate before-and-after scenes of developments on the Monterye Bay and adjacent coastal areas during the past 12 years.

Muhly will present an illustrated lecture tonight at 7:30 at the Monterey Peninsula College music auditorium, where his photo exhibit will also be moved. Ventana chapter of the Sierra Club, which is sponsoring the lecture, invites the general public to the free event.

Ventana chapter directors have endorsed a Assembly Bill 1471, sponsored by Assemblymen Alan Sieroty and John Dunlop in the state legislature favoring a regional approach for conserving the coastline.

Rattlesnake Killed Here

Robert Pace, operations manager for a local radio station, has reported that he killed a rattlesnake in the 1400 block of Mescal.

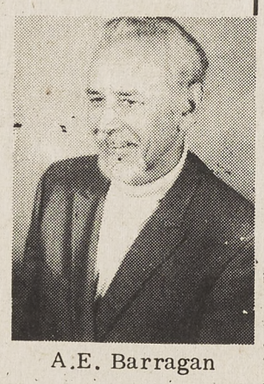
Pace said that as he was going into the KOCN-FM studio, located near the water tanks on Mescal, he saw a snake curled up in the driveway.

"At first, " he said, "I thought it was a bull snake, but when I got a close look at the head, with the characteristic diamond-shaped mark, I knewit was a rattler."

Publisher's Report

Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher



A.E. Barragan

It is certainly not hard to take a position on the upcoming recall election scheduled for next Tuesday, June 29. The answer is to vote a hard and resounding NO. The ballot is worded in such a way that a NO vote is needed to retain the present four councilmen in office. It reads: "Shall (councilman) be recalled from the office of Member of the City Council." If you want to retain Pearl Carey, Gerald McGrath Oliver Murray and Stephen Ross you have to vote NO. A NO means that you don't want them recalled. It is that simple.

What have these four councilmen done that is so dastardly that they should be recalled? What crime have they committed? What illegal dealings have they involved in? None whatsoever. Their only "crime" is that have stood for the rights of all the people of Seaside. They have dared to oppose the one-man rule of Mayor Louis Haddad, a man whose record is so bad that even the Monterey Peninsula Herald, which has wholeheartedly supported him in the past, now denounces him as an "arrogant trouble-mking mayor."

This description by his former supporters is both true and significant. It is true in the fact that all of the troubles that have beset our city since the last election have been caused by the refusal of Mayor Haddad to work with the majority of the council. He has managed to twist every issue to try to make it look as if it is the fault of the four councilmen rather

Course to Discuss Alcohol

A "survival" course for "those who drink and those who wonder why" will be instructed by Mary C. Ross at Monterey Peninsula College during June and July and again in August and September.

Co-sponsored by MPC and the Monterey Peninsula Council on Alcoholism, the course is recommended for educators, parents, campus leaders, journalists; counselors, nurses, union leaders, city and county officials, community leaders, and for "all who are concerned with the prevention and solution of alcohol problems - in the home, on the job and in the community."

Mrs. Ross, longtime executive secretary of the MPCA, will be assited by guest speakers and panelists in presenting five sessions: "Mind, Body and Alcohol," "Hangovers and Hang-ups," "Who Can Help and How," "Drinking and Driving" and "Rap Session."

The first class will meet five Thursday evenings, beginning tonight through July 22. Classes will be held from 8 to 10 in Room H-201 (Humanities Building) at MPC.

The repeat class is scheduled for August 5 through September 2.

Registration will be conducted at the first session. A $1 College Center use fee will be collected at that meeting.

Volunteers AreNeeded

The Monterey County Anti-Poverty Coordinating Council is currently seeking volunteers for VISTA-A national corps of volunteers who work to alleviate poverty within the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Presently some 4,600 VISTA volunteers are living and working among the poor. They serve in urban ghettos, small towns and rural poverty areas, in the migrant streams, on Indian reservations and in Job Corps centers.

Two public health nurses, two home economists, four community workers and four persons to work in various housing projects are needed to train as VISTA volunteers. Persons selected will receive a four to six week training course. Upon completion of training they will be assigned to a project where they will serve one full year.

Volunteers will receive $175 per month for food and lodging and $75 per month for personal expenses. In addition $50 per month will be saved for each volunteer until the end of service.

THE PIT

The continuing argument the Mayor has made concerning the Pit has contended that it is a high profit proposition for the city. This is presented as information possessed by His Honor-that you can depend on.

Let us find out. Let us find out by June 29! ! ! The Mayor likes show downs. He likes to issue Texas-like showdowns. He would not risk his public office when his offer for an elective showdown was accepted by Stephen Ross. We all make mistakes and some times bite off more than we can chew.

Since the PIT is amayor-created issue in this Recall, the best way to expose the falsehood and double talk about this whole Recall movement is to expose in a dollars and cents way what a swindle it really is. The Mayor wants the people of the city of Seaside to take a $59,700 to $77,000 bath for his friend Mr. Mineo - and for a profit (Take the Mayor's word for that).

Remember His Honor's Angel Gabriel (Obie Jackson) wrote in the Haddad House Organ (Seaside Community News) that the PIT proposal was the Mayor's brainstorm (Mr. Jackson you've finally found it!!! The unvarnished truth. Thank God.) So now Mr. Mayor Put Up or Shut Up:

1. Proprietary Land Management is not a proper legal activity of a Municipal Corporation.

2. Let us help Mr. Mineo by finding a private buyer. You, Mr. Mayor have a similar shopping center which you have indicated is available to the right buyer. You have indicated it enjoys three occupants, three vacancies, and burdensome mortgages. Well, being a self admitted business success, Mr. Mayor, why not cut your losses. Trade off all the headaches of delinquent tenants, big mortgage payments and all those losses to Mr. Mineo and take over the PIT with all its benefits, and its superb profitability.

Wouldn't this be the best solution for all the parties? Look, Nick Marrotta would make two commissions on one deal. I'm sure this would be a winner from Mr. Mineo's standpoint. This seems to be the kind of a deal that was heaven sent for all of you. How about it Mr. Mayor? You and Mr. Marotta gave Seaside three days to trade off the old city hall and take a $50,000 to $77,000 bath simultaneously. I publically invite you to trade your property for the PIT by June 29 to prove its profitability or let your failure to do so demostrate the fraud and deception you have been wishing on the citizens of this city.

PUT UPORSHUT UP, YOUR HONOR.

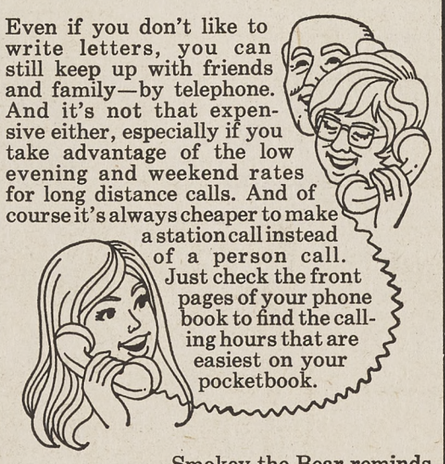
THE PHONE BOOTH

Whatever you're shoping for, the place to start is the Yellow Pages of your phone book. You'll quickly find the most convenient store in your area selling the item you're looking for. You'll also find out which stores are authorized dealers for certain brands, which accept credit cards and what their business hours are. Call the dealers to ask for specific information is often the next step, but sometimes you'll find out everything you want to know just by reading the Yellow Pages in the Monterey County telephone directory.



Even if you don't like to write letters, you can still keep up with friends and family—by telephone. And it's not that expensive either, especially if you take advantage of the low evening and weekend rates for long distance calls. And of course it's always cheaper to make a station call instead of a person call. Just check the front pages of your phone book to find the calling hours that are easiest on your pocketbook.

than his arrogant refusal to cooperate. He has purposely refused to cooperate, so that he could point to the city council and say that they have not done their job.

How can they do their job in the face of a mayor who slapped them with a recall movement practically from the start of their very first meeting. It has been shown beyond a doubt that the Mayor and the so-called Citizens for Good Government conspired from the day after the election to recall the four councilmen and somehow, without any regard for the welfare of the City of Seaside, regain control of the City Council. The many disruptions these people have caused have succeeded in keeping the city in such a turmoil that many of the citizens are at the point that they will go along with the recall just to get rid of everybody.

Well, recalling these four good councilmen won't get rid of Haddad and company. Let's look at the line-up of candidates who could get elected if the recall scheme works.

In the place of Pearl Carey, voters have the choice of Billie Barton, a former member of Haddad's planning commission and long-time Haddad stooge or Sarah Ector, Haddad's appointee to the redevelopment agency, who is also his supporter. There is little chance that the city would get any independent representation from either of these two, yet one of them will be elected if Pearl Carey is recalled.

Next, let's look at who is running against Steve Ross. Abraham Aldamuy is an employee of the housing agency, who owes his allegiance to the Haddad machine through his job. Charles Y. Lee is Haddad's chairman of the city art commission and Jack Oldemeyer was a leader in the recall petition drive and an old supporter of the mayor. Is there any possibility of independent votes from any of these three. Is it possible that any of these will vote against the man who appointed them and to whom they are indebted. Of course not.

All that Haddad needs to control the council is those two votes, so it really doesn't make any difference who wins the other two seats because a 3 to 2 vote is all it takes to win every issue on the city council. But let's examine two of the leading contenders who would get elected in the place of Gerry McGrath if he is recalled. Emil Schmidt might get elected again. If you remember he was the head stooge for Haddad in the last council. The reason he was defeated in the last election was that he was just a yes-man for the Mayor. Hardly ever did he cast an independent vote. Of course, Glenn Olea, who owes his loyalty to Haddad, might be elected. He is a Haddad-appointed member of the Planning Commission.

Now let's look at the contender who would win to replace Oliver Murray. That would be Joe Cota, because the other two are not well known enough to win and Don Likas has pulled out because he is now against the recall.

I hope that I have made my point and shown the truth of the Heralds' description of Haddad- an "arrogant trouble-making mayor." The Herald's denunciation of Haddad is important because it signifies that the mayor has been dumped by the county Republican king-makers.

For a long time now, they have been grooming Haddad as their "great white hope" by appointing him to party positions in Republican circles. It's impossible to think for a moment that the Herald would have dumped Haddad without the knowledge of the heirarchy of the Republican party. No., I think that they figured that Haddad had gone too far in his arrogance and that it was time to get rid of him for the good of the party.

If you want to retain good, representative government in Seaside, then VOTE NO on the recall of all four councilmen. If you want to bring back one-man arrogant control of the city of Seaside then go ahead and recall the four councilmen. IT IS THAT SIMPLE.

Taxes Are Distributed

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy has announced the distribution of $6,915,864 to counties and cities as the May apprortionment of cigarette tax.

Monterey County received $7,904.14 while Seaside got $9,698.10. The 58 counties' share was $1,291,585 and the cities' share totaled $5,624,279.

Letter To The Editor

Editor: The OLAF campaign deserves appreciation. Meritorious as such activities to ransom bits of our environment from mindless esploitation are, they do not attack the roots of the system that threatens the fields in question, the beaches, the forests. Such acquisition campaigns actually support that system.

The bitterness about the destruction of the Del Monte Beach and the threat to the heartland of the local establishment indicates that even here many have concluded reluctantly that private property on land is undesirable. It is not only undesirable, however. It is also absurd and a primary cause of social misery.

A civilized society must return to the fundamental concept that the air, the land and the sea, among other things, cannot be owned privately. Society can permit men to use the land, but when these men decide to cease that use, it is not an opportunity to blackmail society for capital gains.

The institution of private property on land, as this country knows it now, is doomed. It will die like the insitution of slavery -- hopefully not after a civil war. It would be advantageous if reform will bring about its demise. For those duped by the cult of property rights, a first step to raise consciousness can be a field trip along the bay from Monterey to Sand City, where Mayor Calabrese dumps refuse on the beach.

Yours truly

L.M.P.T. Wijsen
Seaside.

Steve Ross Reports

What is happening to the people of Seaside is indicative of the period os history in which we live.

It seems to be a common fault in human relations for people to label each other by occupation, geographic location, ethnic background interests and attitudes. People then confuse the labels with the person.

The danger or harm in this kind of thinking or action is that the label can become an inhibitor--a cage that limits thought, action and interaction and encourages divisiveness, apathy and isolation.

There are people (both inside and outside) of our city who are keenly aware of this, I believe, and they are taking maximum advantage of it. The majority of our citizens, judging from past experiences, may become victims of this apathy. We councilmen have already become victims of both lables and apathy. But that is alright because that is part of the "heat" of the job.

My prime concern is for the people of our city, who are being victimized and damaged by all of this. We need jobs for the unemployed and underemployed of Seaside. We need housing for those who need it and we need a fair return on the investment of our business men. We need a tax base or an alternate revenue delivery system that will permit us to provide services to out people of Seaside, so that they can enjoy life--in peace and security of their own homes, in their own theater of in their own recreation facilities --as the beautiful Monterey Peninsula is capable of offering. I have worked for these things and I will continue to do so as long as I am around.

However, these things are not going to happen if the majority of our citizens continue to sit on the sidelines and wait for others to solve our problems for us. We must collectively voice and vote our convictions. Then we must defend our convictions by supporting those we elect to carry them out, while allowing flexibility for changing times.

We need changes in our local, state and national priorities if we are to effectively serve the needs of this city. We need a united effort to help bring this about. Instead of working at it, though, we are bogged down in a fight among ourselves. While we go after each other, one rich group or individual will rip-off what money may come our way; another rich group is afraid to invest; with no jobs, the criminal forces the weak young person to join him in ripping-off the furniture of a struggling neighbor or in cleaning out some small one-family business establishment.

We have no time to lose fighting ourselves or there will be nothing left.

My record of service speaks for itself. I believe it to be a good one. Of course I have made mistakes. That is a human trait each of us has. I make no apology for it. We have a good city. I am proud of it. We have a good city council. It needs your help. I would like to continue to be a part of it.

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe
(Formerly WHO CARES)

Comic strips today are facing serious competition. It must be very difficult for the cartoonists to come up with new material that someone, somewhere, hasn't already used, and worse yet, real life news is getting funnier every day. How can poor Dagwood Bumstead compete with Attorney General Mitchell, for example? Or Martha Mitchell, for that matter?

I personally think it very amusing that the government had three appeals court judges waiting on the third floor so they could race up there and have the ruling overturned immediately after U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard Gessell decided there was nothing in the Pentagon's study about the events leading us into the Vietnam war that would be injurious to the U.S. if published by the Washington Post.

Then, after reading that the whole thing is essence had been made public by none other than the government of North Vietnam several years ago, I saw no point in reading the comic page at all.

Poor, confused ex-Governor Romney made headlines long ago after a visit to Asia to become an Asian expert when he stated on his return that he thought he may have been brainwashed. A few days ago, when asked about his opinion at this time, he said that the credibility gap had become a canyon and that was before we found out that Hanoi, of all people, had been broadcasting a much more truthful version of Asian events than we were given by our own government.

So, we can view these things with amusement or we can look at the tragic results of the American Crusade to Preserve Asia for Americans and we can get boiling angry that our land of the free and home of the brave has allowed itself to drop so low.

But, back to the funny side, probably very few people would have taken time out from Perry Mason and baseball to read the Pentagon report if our administration hadn't made a big deal out of it. The more the Pentagon tries to cover it up, the wider the credibility canyon becomes and the publicity is terrific not just in America, but in places that never even heard of America except through foreign aid and the United Fruit Company.

In a way, this is good. It may become more difficult for future Presidents to declare wars without taxpayers finding out about them. On the other hand, high officials may by necessity force themselves to become more clever at concealing facts, so we would be right back where we started. Thus, we have to be careful that we don't encourage thinking beyond a certain acceptable level - it may get out of control. Far better to have a President, for exemple, who is honest although fairly stupid, than to have one dishonest but clever enough to conceal it with rhetoric.

But, cheer up. All this will be forgotten when we read someday about how we won the war by military force and ended it peacefully by Vietnamization all at the same time just three days before the reelection of Mr. Nixon in 1972.

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi There, Fellow Peninsulans:

Happiness is a full week of successful and gratifying accomplishments. This past week was a very eventful week for our family. My handsome son, Maurice, graduated from Monterey High School and was accepted as a student three days prior to graduation by the University of California, Santa Cruz. A few days later, my daughter, Maurya, who was a Monterey High graduate last year, was told that she would be admitted to San Jose State College. Maurya is now attending Healds Business College in San Jose and is majoring in Computer programing. She will further her studies in the Business Administration field at San Jose State, following her graduation from Healds in September. So dear readers, I would classify happiness as helping one's children to the beginning of the road of success. I certainly hope they will continue to tread the path of fulfillment and happiness.

To all of the graduates of the Monterey Peninsula area, remember the song "Keep on Pushing" and the latest dance that is out "The Push and Pull." Follow these cliches and you will indeed make it! (Smile)

While speaking of academics, I wonder why the adults in Seaside have let the MPUSD adult school summer program at King go down the drain. There are only a handful of students in the classes

I can't understand why so many of our citizens, especially the members of minority races, complain that they can't get a decent job. The people downtown put these sources there for all to utilize to improve one's skills and knowledge. But so many of you think you are too old to start learning again. That's not true baby! Here is one high schoo dropout who raised a family of four children and went back to adult night school at Seaside High. I prepared myself to take the G.E.D. Test and finally passed it with flying colors. Now I am enrolled at M P C, competing with youngsters that are the age of my children and I'll be darned if my grades aren't better than some of theirs.

So perk up all of you people who desire to keep up with the fast moving pace of the competitive system that we live in. Contact Mr. Anderson, the principal of the Adult Night School. He will steer you in the right direction.

PAST HAPPENINGS

An entourage of peninsulans traveled to Alameda to attend the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Spring Dance that was held at the Encinal Yatch Club overlooking the beautiful harbor in Alameda. The gala Affair was strictly formal and consisted of an evening of cocktails and dancing from 8 p.m. until midnight. Then a lively breakfast dance followed the sophisticated music from the earlier part of the evening festivities. A floor show and a together soul band entertained the guests as they danced and dined at a gourmet type breakfast.

Guests from the Monterey Peninsula who attended the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown (Jane Van Hook and Husband), Mrs. Helen Short (Mrs. Helen Mitchell), Miss Mary Ellen Harris, Mrs. Fredrica Evans, Miss Betty Sapp, Miss Emma Loukaetis, Mrs. Dessie Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woodle, Mr. Theron Polite, Mr. Paul Carter, Sgt. Frank Washington, Mr. Marvin Linton, Capt. and Mrs. James Ross and yours truly.

There were other Monterey Peninsulans also in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woods (Michelle Francies and husband) were host and hostesses to the above guests from the peninsula.

The following day Mrs. Jane Van Hook invited the above guest to a poolside cocktail party and brunch at the lovely ranch style estate of her sister and brother-in-Law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burns of Pittsburg. The guests enjoyed a lovely day in the 95 degree weather, sipping champagne, swimming and eating. Would you believe me if I told you some of us got sunburned and slightly tanned! (Ha, Ha)

Fair Prices Are Stable

Inflation is a word directors of Monterey County Fair refuse to recognize.

Despite the fact many fairs are trying to balance the budget by increasing gate charges, Monterey fair directors are committed to holding the line on admission costs. When the gates open August 11 through 15, in Monterey, fairgoers still will be paying only $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Fair Manager George Wise reported, at a recent board meeting, plans for the August fair are rapidly rounding into shape. Directors approved these preparations at that meeting:

Appointment of three officials for the horse show, which runs concurrently with the fair. They are Ralph Walker, American Horse Shows Association steward; Dennis Schardt, paddock steward and Malcolm Russell, horse show announcer, Still to be named are a jump course supervisor and a farrier.

A dinner meeting with members of the junior auction committee to plan for enlistment of buyers for the junior livestock auction at the fair.

Classes Are Announced

The University for Man, the "free university" which functions under the auspices of Monterey Peninsula College, has announced its summer program of classes, workshops and seminars in a brochure, which was issued recently.

The brochure is being distributed at various locations on the MPC campus and at local libraries and bookstores. It is also available at the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Among some 16 "classes" to meet evenings - most of them at MPC - are a series of dialogues between participants and inmates and staff from the Soledad Correctional Training Facility; and "archeology in Monterey County" series of field trips and excavations led by Don Howard; an encounter group for unmarrieds; a "creative divorce" workshop and a Kundaiini Yoga series.

There will also be classes in folk guitar, folk dancing, knitting and crocheting, ceramics, the philosophy of comparative religions and the history of Russian music, among others.

The majority of groups will start during the last week of June. Registration will be handled by mail until a June 30 deadline. Prospective students should send $1 with their selection of classes in envelopes addressed to the University for Man, Monterey Peninsula College, 980 Fremont, Monterey. The UFM office in Room E-5-A, at MPC is open between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. week days (phone 375-9821, Ext. 248).

OpenHouse Is Sunday

This Sunday, June 27, is the date of the Artist's Studio-Open House Tour, sponsored annually by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association.

Tour hours are 11 a.m. to 5. Refreshments will be served at the Museum, 559 Pacific Street, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Derby Date Changed

So as not to detract from the Salinas Rodeo, the Monterey Peninsula Soap Box Derby has been moved one week to July 25.

This gives drivers an additional week to prepare their cars for the event.

On Saturday, July 24 at 10:30 a.m., under the sponsorship of the Chevrolet Corvette Club of the Monterey Peninsula, there will be a parade through downtown Monterey. After the parade the cars and drivers will proceed to Laguna Seca Race Track for open track practice. This practice will serve to acquaint the drivers with the track and their cars.

Upon completion of this practice, the cars will be impounded until the official race begins on July 25.

On July 25, the Monterey Peninsula Soap Box Derby will officially begin at 11 a.m. with a parade at the race track and introductions of the dignitaries and contestants. After lunch the race will be run on a double elimination basis.

After the race there will be a victory circle for the awarding of trophies to all the winners. The champion of the event will receive, from Chevrolet Motor Division, a beautiful trophy and $500 Savings Bond. The Carmel Valley Lions Club will furnish an all expense paid trip to Akron, Ohio where he will compete in the All American Soap Box Derby. In this event in Akron, the winner will be representing the entire Monterey Peninsula.

All boys through the ages of 11 and 15, sill have enough time to build a Soap Box Derby racer. Hurry down to Roller Chevrolet and sign up today.

Prepare Car For Vacation

If you're planning a vacation trip in your car, there are a few things you should be sure to have checked to avoid trouble on the road.

The California State Automobile Association says that family cars that are seldom used for anything but short shopping trips around home can develop "vacationitis" on the highway where they are run at higher speeds for hours at a time.

The first thing to have inspected is the cooling system. The radiator may have deposits of rust or scale that in sustained highway driving, particularly in mountain or desert regions, would cause overheating. The hoses and pressure cap should be checked as should the radiator for any leaks.

Cars equipped with air conditioning should have antifreeze in the cooling system. This helps reduce overheating because of its higher boiling point.

Belts that drive the fan, alternator, power steering and air conditioning should be checked. Any that are in marginal condition should be replaced.

Tires should be inspected for cuts or bruises or even small cracks in the casing. Be sure to include the spare in this inspection. If your tires are fairly well worn, there is no better time to invest in a new set then before you leave on a vacation trip.

The engine should be tuned unless this has been done within the past six months or 5,000 miles.

Make sure that the automatic choke mechanism works properly as this can be a cause of hard starting and poor engine performance particularly in higher elevations where the fuel-air mixture is affected by altitude.

Have the brakes, lights and steering mechanism checked.

With these maintenance steps taken, chances are your car will run beautifully and you won't lose any precious time on that vacation trip, says the AAA.

LSD, Gasoline Don't Mix

Heavy users of hallucinogenic drugs such as LSD could be serious highway threats even when they are not stoned, reports a prominent Philadelphia psychiatrist, Dr. George Woody, in The American Journal of Psychiatry.

He relates three case histories in which young drug users suffered visual disturbances while driving and came close to having accidents as a result.

"I saw a teacup on the road," one of the youths reported, "It was a real teacup; a cup and a saucer. There were about six people in it. We were right behind it, and I was going to crash into it. I went off the road and then it wasn't there anymore."

The youth had been a heavy drug user but was not using drugs at the time of the incident. "There is evidence to suggest that LSD ingestion can cause prolonged visual abnormalities," says Dr. Woody.

Datsun Has New Consumer Program

In a move designed to heed the growing wave of "consumerism," the Nissan Motor Corporation in U.S.A., the distributor for the Datsun line of cars and trucks, has recently announced a new Consumer Relation Program.

The program's principle aim is to see that every Datsun owner is a satisfied customer. To accomplish this goal, the program intends to react immediately to owner's problems and correct them before small problems can become big ones.

"The automobile is not a readily consumable product like a box of breakfast food," commented Y. Katayama, president of the Nissan Motor Corp. in U. S. A. "our product is around for a long time after the initial sale. If the customer's car is not right, it will haunt us for as long as he has it. Good communication with our customers will lead to the solution of many of their problems and develop satisfied owners."

Katayama went on to point out that the new Consumer Relation Program was not only set up to solve problems, but to feed back information pertaining to all phases of the dealer-distributor operation.

"If we are doing something particularly well, we also want to know about it so that we can do more of it," he added.

The new Consumer Relations Program, which is currently going through a pilot test run in the Los Angeles area, will be put into effect on a national basis in the not too distant future.

"The key to the whole program is getting the enthusiatic cooperation of our dealers," stated Lee Wylie, Nissan's National Service Manager, "and to insure that this program is effective we are building an incentive program that will reward the dealers and their personnel for generating communication with their customer."

Wylie went on to explain that the company was now staffing up to implement the program. "We plan on having consumer relations men in each of our nine regional offices who will have hot lines to the dealers to expedite the solution of customer problems. The information these regional consumer relations men gather will be coded for our computer and fed to our national headquarters in Gardena where all customer reactions will be tabulated so that we can constantly monitor our consumer relationships. We feel that this information will be a tremendous aid in guiding not only service policies but every phase of our operation."

"We believe in the axiom that the 'Customer is King,'" stated katayama, "and we are going all out to build a program that will enable our dealers to treat their customers like kings. This new program is intended to bond a closer relationship between the Datsun owner and the dealer, the dealer and us. No problem can ever grow big if we all sit down and talk about it while it is still small."

Brewery Uses Old Bottles

Lucky Breweries has paved its San Francisco parking lot with asphalt containing 336,000 waste bottles.

President Peter N. T. Widdrington said crushed, multi-colored glass was mixed with asphalt in the first application of "glasphalt" in Northern California.

"That's 70 tons of used containers that might otherwise have added to our mounting solid-waste problems," he said.

Lucky is the nation's first brewer with a program to recycle all its bottles and cans.

Because the brewery buys back and re-uses its "one-ways," Widdrington said the glass for the paving project was collected by thousands of citizens involved in recycling activities.

Lucky applied a 1-1/2 inch layer of glasphalt over 7,280-square-feet of existing pavement in the demonstration.

At the same time, the company resurfaced a 300-square-foot driveway section to test glasphalt in an area heavily used by highway tractor-trailers.

The material contains about 60 percent broken glass or "cullet," which replaces gravel aggregate ordinarily mixed with asphalt, plus 33 percent stone dust, 5 percent asphalt and a small amount of lime.

Dr. Ward Malisch, consultant on the project, said glasphalt was conceived by his University of Missouri--Rolla engineering students and is being further developed under grants from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute (GCMI).

Robert Vans GCMI's western public affairs manager, said the material offers cities one of the most promising ways glass which normally is used as ground fill.

"Waste glass can be converted into a resource of economic value on which municipalities will receive a return, rather than pay for its disposal."

Dr. Malisch said he foresees an increasing demand for glass in paving as gravel supplies near cities diminish and the cost of hauling aggregate from more distant areas increases.

Firms participating in the Lucky paving project were Glass Containers Corporation which accumulated the glass from area reclamation centers; Kaiser Sand and Gravel Company, which ground the raw glass; Industrial Asphalt, Incorporated, which prepared the glasphalt and Lowrie Paving Company, Inc., which laid the material.

CSAA Upsetby Senate Action

The California State Automobile Association expressed its extreme disappointment recently over the action of the Senate Judiciary Committee in delaying action on the "modified no-fault insurance" legislature in Sacramento. The California State Automobile Association Board of Directors approved the concept of modified no-fault insurance presented by Senator Harmer and State Insurance Commissioner Richard Barger before the Senate Judiciary Committee in Sacramento, as meaningful worthwhile legislation."

"This package of consumer oriented legislation is the result of months of study on the national as well as state level and is based in part on the important findings and recommendations of the California Governors Accident Study Commission."

"Passage of such proposed legislation in its present form contains the necessary ingredients to eliminate the valid criticism made against the present auto insurance system" Garrison said, "and it will help control the rising cost of insurance premiums the motorist now faces."

Among others, the modified, no-fault plan contained in the "Harmer Package" provides for direct payment by each car accident victim's own insurance company of a sum up to $5,000 for medical expense and a percentage of loss of earnings regardless of who may have been at fault for the accident. At the same time the injured person could take legal action against the driver alleged to the negligent, but the plan would limit "pain and suffering" compensation, the subject of many excessive verdicts and costly court cases. Such payments would be limited to percentage of the actual necessary medical cost except in cases of permanent injury or death.

Under provisions of this proposed new legislation all disputed cases under $5,000 would be arbitrated, further reducing the court calendar load.

The bills would also limit lawyers contingency fees.

"We feel that the enactment of the Harmer Package of modified no-fault insurance is in the best interest of the public. It will return a larger portion of their premium dollar in benefits, if will encourage them to exercise full responsibility for their actions and it will help promote safety on our roads and highways" Garrison concluded. "It is our hope that the Senate Judiciary Committee will reconsider its action on this important consumer legislation and give it a do-pass recommendation."

Look Out for Turning Cars

One of the main hazards to the pedestrian is the car making a turn at an intersection, says the California State Automobile Association. Because the driver is busy looking at approaching traffic from the left, the right and straight ahead, he may fail to see the person trying to cross the intersection.

The CSAA urges pedestrians to make sure they are seen by all drivers before they step out into traffic and be especially alert for those drivers who are making a turn.

Another hazardous situation arises when a pedestrian tries to hurry across an intersection when the traffic light says "Wait" or "Don't Walk." This is both dangerous and discourteous---discourteous because at busy intersections it if the only time that care and other vehicles have a chance to complete their turn.

Posters illustrating the theme, "Watch for Turning Cars," have been distributed to schools throughout northern and central California and Nevada by the CSAA.

'Wrapped Up' Scores High

The Reverend Cleophus Robinson, preacher and singer, is riding the crest of success on the strength of his hit recording, "Wrapped Up, Tied Up, Tangled Up." This recording on the Nashboro label has only been on the market for four months but has sold approximately 25,000.

VD Was Topic

California's number one communicable disease which has now reached epidemic proportions, venereal disease, and how to effectively teach young people about prevention and treatment was the subject of a day-long workshop for more than 300 bay area educators at the UC Medical Center in San Francisco recently.

The VD workshop in the Medical Center's Mullberry Union was held for teachers, school nurses and others who work with young people. It launched a month-long April VD Awareness Campaign sponsored by the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association, the Bay Area Venereal Disease Association and the State Public Health Department's Venereal Disease Section.

Morning speakers included Mrs. Mabel S. Rickett, health educator, discussing "VD-Can You Educate About It?"; Dr. Edwin Braff, director of communicable disease control for the San Francisco Department of Public Health, on "Let's Talk About the Cosmic Disease"; Dr. Braff and two other city health officials, James Ash and Donald Hawkins, on "VD-The San Francisco Scene."

During the afternoon State Senator Peter Behr talked on "VD--Laws Old and New," followed by Dr. Harvey Caplan of Planned Parenthood discussing "VD--Attitudes and Feelings." Mrs. Rickett ended the day-long workshop with a talk on "VD--Educational Tools."

Workshop planners had described venereal disease in California as a "rampaging epidemic which will afflict four people every minute in our state."

E. Ronald Shewfelt, executive director of the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association, said that "for the first time in the state's history, more than 115,000 cases were reported in 1970. For every case reported, it is estimated there are four unreported cases which mean more than 500,000 people, the majority between 15 and 25 years of age, were infected last year--and that figure is expected to increase in 1971."

Shewfelt said that the purpose of the VD Workshop was to "find ways to communicate with students while still in school and alert them to the necessity of prevention, having checkups if they feel they have been exposed and to seek treatment without fear of recrimination or shame, if afflicted.

"Of help in combating VD are new laws which now permit minors to seek treatment for VD without parental consent or knowledge and allowing minors to now legally purchase prophylactics...but ignorance and fear are still the greatest culprits in the spread of the disease," Shewfelt observed.

Church Services

The healing power of the Christ will be explored this Sunday at Christian Science church services on the Monterey Peninsula. The public is invited to attend services which begin at 10:30 a.m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist in Monterey.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" include these words of Christ Jesus: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall be do; because I go unto my Father."

This passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth's immortal idea is sweeping down the centuries, gathering beneath its wings and sick and sinning."

Local Teacher Judge For Program

Mrs. Doris O. Clothier of Colton Junior High School, Monterey, has been appointed a regional judge for the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Awards program for 1971.

Judging committees, composed of teachers of English from both colleges and high schools, will evaluate the writing skills and literary awareness of nearly 7,000 selected high school students in their junior year.

The Achievement Awards program attempts to grant recognition to high school students in their senior year for excellence in English. Finalists are announced in October and are recommended for scholarship aid to all colleges, universities, and junior colleges in the United States.

Award winners generally receive from fifty to seventy-five letters from colleges encouraging application for admission or offering scholarship aid.

The Achievement Awards competition is part of the comprehensive program instruction in English language and literature at all levels throughout the nation's schools.

The NCTE is a professional, nonprofit organization of English teachers whose membership and subscribers now include more than 135,000 teachers from primary grades to graduate school.

Parents Can Be Part of Young Life

The name Young Life sounds as if its activities are for young people. Primarily, this is so. However, Young Life International offers the parents of Young Life kids an opportunity to find out more about the Young Life program while becoming part of it.

Parents Guest Program invites the parents who attend to become more than spectators. Parents will be able to see how teenagers face up to reality and find a new depth of meaning in life. They will find it hard to keep from sharing some of their fresh joy and enthusiasm.

Young Life Canadian Property, Malibu, located 90 miles north of Vancouver, B. C. is the most popular camp for visits.

This summer Mayor and Mrs. Al Madden of Monterey and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Getz of Pacific Grove will be visiting Malibu. These people will be combining a beautiful vacation with a great learning situation.

Over 100 Young Lifers from Monterey County will be attending various camps this summer. Thirty are going to Malibu.

Many of these young people are making the trip to camp because of scholarships provided by individuals and money they earned themselves through Young Life connected activities.

Presently Young Life in Monterey County is providing over $2,000 in scholarships, but more support is needed. Information on the Guest Program and camp scholarships can be obtained by calling the Young Life office at 373-7763.

Mime Troupe Appearing In Monterey

The San Francisco Mime Troupe, nationally kown guerilla teater company due to perform at the Monterey Peninsula College Cafeteria on June 25, is a hardworking "collective" typifying in many ways the small groups which increasingly make up the radical-youth movement. It has demonstrated to the apparent satisfaction of thousands that relevant art can be created collectively and sustained without establishment subsidy.

The Mime Troupe, founded in 1959 by R. G. Davis, was at the outset neither a collective or a political organization. A former actor who sells real estate recalls, "We were more of a beatnik group then."

Despite its relatively late start, the Troupe played a major role in San Francisco's underground cultural renaissance of the 60's by pioneering free shows in city parks and "happenings" in its low rent districts.

The productions to be seen locally are about current issues such as ecology, the military system of injustices, (which is a play written just for this area. This is the first time this play has been seen before a public audience) and the Soledad Brother's Case.

The Mine Troupe's ideology which gradually developed from vaguely radical to concrete revolutionary, is complemented by its internal organization.

Begining as a traditionally structured theater company run by its creative director, its is now a vigorously democratic collective which smashed the precious "star system" by obliging members to learn and perform as many jobs as exist around the studio and the immediate community.

GRADUATES - Twenty-nine nurse's aides were graduated from MPUSD division of adult education during recent ceremonies held at Del Monte Manor. The Ygnacio Valley band topped a field of twelve California High school bands to take the honors.

The Ygnacio Valley High School Band and a special all-star high school band, chosen from performers during the competition, will both appear at the Monterey Jazz Festival the afternoon of Sunday, September 19.

The Festival sponsored the competition in conjuction with the National Association of Jazz Educators and Monterey Peninsula College.

The twelve competing bands were chosen from various regional competitions throughout the state.

Two Fitness Classes Given

She plans to teach techniques in yoga, dance, corrective exercices and other popular activities to improve the body, mind, and overall health. Enrollment is still open for this class which began June 15.

The other class began June 22, also at Monterey High School girls' gym, meeting Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 9 to 9:30 p.m. This group will be instructed by Pat Skinner in beginning yoga, calisthenics, jogging, volleyball and swimming.

Signs For Jazz Festival

Carmen McRae, jazz vocalist, is the first artist signed for this year's Monterey Jazz Festival, September 17, 18, 19.

Miss McRae will perform during the opening concert of this 14th Annual event, Friday evening, September 17.

A great audience favorite at the Monterey Jazz Festival, she is considered by both music critics and fans as being a true jazz singer--not simply a singer of popular songs.

The Monterey Jazz Festival consists of five separate concerts --Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. It is held in the 7000 seat outdoor arena on the Monterey Fairgrounds.

Season tickets to all five concerts are on sale now at less than box-office prices. For information write Monterey Jazz Festival, P. O. Box JAZZ, Monterey, California 93940, or telephone 373-3366.

Y-Day Camp Is For Girls

As a pilot program to test the need for camping opportunities among girls on the Monterey Peninsula, the YMCA will operate a two-week session of Y-Day Camp for six to nine year old girls beginning June 28.

This will be held on the YMCA's Day Camp site in Carmel Valley and will be directed by Seaside High teacher, Robert Babcock, who has directed Y-Day Camps during the past two summers, according to Sprague.

The Leaders, now involved in pre-camp training are Kathy Cowan, Terri Fancher, Lori Hebert and Bonnie Lewis.

The program will include swim instruction, hiking, crafts, games, songs, stories, special trips, daily interdenominational chapel services, a parents' campfire and an overnight campout. Daily pickup and delivery service by leased school bus from points all over the Peninsula is also available.

Further information about this camp or about the YMCA's camps for boys of all ages may be secured by phoning 373-4166.
